Read the passage. Choose the correct answer (a, b, or c).

A New Roommate

On Sunday, Omar moved into a residence hall near his college. He was a freshman and felt nervous because he did not know anybody in town. He shared a suite with Ali, his new roommate. Ali smiled and introduced himself. He showed Omar the kitchen, study room, and cafeteria.

The two students made simple rules for shared living. They agreed to keep their room clean and respect each other's privacy. Ali liked listening to music, but he used headphones when Omar needed to study. Omar was happy because Ali was considerate.

On Monday, Omar joined a freshman support group. An assistant helped him find his classroom and a tutor. After class, Ali asked, "Would you like to grab something to eat?" They had lunch and talked about their hobbies. Later, they joined a college sports activity.

By Friday, Omar had made new friends. He learned that being polite, asking for help, and participating in activities could make college life easier.
